Build the capabilities for a human + AI/SI workplace

HR&WorkTech Summit Singapore 2027

AI & SI is reshaping how organisations recruit, develop, support and deploy their people. For HR leaders, the challenge is to translate emerging capabilities into better work, stronger skills and measurable business outcomes while preserving trust, accountability and human judgement.

The HR Worktech Asia Summit Singapore will explore how employers can design organisations where people and AI work effectively together. Taking place on 17 June 2027 at Dusit Thani Laguna Singapore Hotel, the summit aims to convene more than 200 CHROs, HR transformation leaders and AI transformation experts from Singapore and across Southeast Asia.

The programme will examine agentic AI, workforce redesign, skills intelligence, responsible technology adoption, employee experience and the HR operating model.

Through executive keynotes, practical presentations and peer discussions, participants will compare approaches to scaling AI, strengthening leadership capability and connecting workforce investment with organisational priorities.

A focused technology showcase and dedicated networking sessions will create opportunities to explore solutions, exchange implementation lessons and build relationships across the regional HR community.

The summit is designed for leaders seeking practical perspectives on workforce transformation, with attention to the decisions, capabilities and safeguards needed to build productive, adaptable and inclusive workplaces for the next phase of growth.

See you in Singapore as we shape the future of strategic HR and AI collaboration.
